Cuts lead to council tax rise fears

STRUGGLING Haverhill residents may face more financial upheaval as funding cuts threaten a hike in council tax.

Haverhill Town Council says they will have to consider the option of raising the tax after losing £129,000 of funding from St Edmundsbury Borough Council.

The loss of the Council Tax Support Grant could lead to a bill rise of up to 15 per cent over the next four years in order to make up the shortfall.

Haverhill Town Clerk Will Austin said: "It has been made clear to the council that St Edmundsbury will not reconsider and will go ahead with reducing the grant by 25 per cent over the next four years.

"The likelihood is that there will be a rise in Haverhill's element of council tax.

"This would be no more than four per cent each year and we would not impose any additional burden."

ELEANOR DICKINSON

Last week the Weekly News revealed St Edmundsbury Borough Council had made the decision to reduce the grant without consulting any of the town or parish councils.

By 2018, the money will be gone completely.

At a parish conference held in Bury St Edmunds on Tuesday night, town and parish councillors were told the cuts would be going ahead.

Cllr David Ray, from St Edmundsbury Borough Council Cabinet member for resources, said: "The Council Tax Support Grant is a transitional grant that comes from the Government, not St Edmundsbury.

"This year, unlike some other councils, we passed on every penny to towns and parishes but as our Government funding is being cut by 47% over the next two years we are also passing that on.

"Town and parish councils have largely been unaffected by the financial pressures faced by other levels of local government over the last few years, but we cannot continue to shield them in the future.

He added: "At the Parish Conference I was encouraged by the way town and parish representatives started to look at ways of adjusting to the gradual reduction in their funding which we plan over the next four years."

Amanda's heading into the fast lane this weekend

WHILE teaching little children may be Amanda Ewings' primary role in life, it's certainly not her only one.

When she's not looking after little children, the manager of Tiny Toes Nursery in Haverhill can be found tearing up the racetrack as a classic tour car racer.

Now with a host of wins and awards under her belt, she is preparing to take on a six-hour non-stop race this weekend.

Ms Ewings said: "I started co-driving many years ago in a Subaru Impreza and then in a beautiful Opel Manta 400.

"After that I thought, you know what, I love this and I want to give it a go."

She added: "A lot of people still assume it's only men who race."

"I took my car to scrutineering at Silverstone and stood by the car waiting and waiting before someone said, oh I didn't know you were the driver, I thought you were just a spectator."

Ms Ewings will be racing alongside the greats on Saturday, with Formula Fords and Ferraris amongst the lineup.

Mother competes for Down's charity

A MUM and runner from Haverhill has raised hundreds of pounds for charity after taking part in her first ever half marathon this month.

Ruth Bayne, of Horsham Close, completed the Perkins Great Eastern Run half marathon in Peterborough, raising £450 for the Down's Syndrome Association (DSA).

The 47-year-old receptionist, whose five-year-old daughter Kirsty has Down's, completed the half marathon in 2 hours, 16 minutes and 13 seconds.

Training intensively alongside fellow colleague at Abbeycroft Leisure Centre, Kirsty Millard, Ruth had to balance work, family life and doing long runs in order to prepare for the 13.1 mile track.

She said: "My little Kirsty is five and a half and had a tough first year in life.

"We nearly lost her a couple of times, once at birth and again after open heart surgery when she was 20 weeks old.

ELEANOR DICKINSON

"Thanks to the heart surgeons at the Royal Brompton our little girl is now strong and active and just as busy, happy and cheeky as a five-year-old should be."

After Kirsty's birth, Ruth turned to the DSA for support and information about the condition.

She said the charity were there on a support line to listen to her fears and worries about Kirsty's health and future in the early days, and have since provided valuable information on how to help her develop her potential as she grows.

Ruth, who is originally from New Zealand, added: "I have attended DSA courses on how best to help her at playgroup and then settle into school.

"Kirsty attends New Cangle School in Haverhill and is doing well there with the support of some dedicated teachers and her classroom helper, who also have benefited from advice from DSA.

"The DSA is a charity and relies on donations to keep supporting families and people with Down's Syndrome in the UK.

"They do a lot of work towards helping young adults into employment and to live independently – so we will need them for a long time to come.

"My husband Stuart recently put together a football team to take part in a charity match held at West Ham all in aid of the DSA.

"Kirsty Millard's husband Kevin came and played for the team too."

Man, 24, attacked with a glass bottle

A WOMAN allegedly attacked a 24-year-old man with a glass bottle in Haverhill Town Centre on Friday.

The 21-year-old woman allegedly lashed out at the man outside the High Street post office, leaving him with a cut on his forehead.

Taser officers were called at 10.50pm after member of the public phoned to say a man had been stabbed.

Upon arrival at the scene, police found shards of broken glass but not the victim himself.

Police later tracked the man down to his home in Clare, Suffolk, where they learned he had in fact been attacked with a bottle, leaving him with a head injury.

A spokesman for the East of England Ambulance Service said they were called to a home in Newton Road, Clare, at 2.24am on Saturday but were turned back before they arrived.

A 21-year-old woman from Haverhill was arrested and released on bail until November 26.

Police appeal after young girls report being followed

TWO young girls have reported being followed by a man in Haverhill over the weekend.

The 11-year-old girls were walking along Haycocks Road at around 2.50pm on Sunday when they noticed a man in his 40s following them.

They first noticed the man as they walked alongside Halfords towards Sainsbury's and then again inside the store.

As they left Sainsbury's and walked through the car park, the man again reappeared behind them, at which point one of the girls phoned her mother and went back inside the shop.

The man is then said to have walked off down Haycocks Road towards Hanchett Village.

Police would like to speak to the man who is described as being white, around 40 years old, between 5ft 8ins to 5ft 10ins tall, bald on top but with black hair with grey around the side.

He was said to be wearing a grey hooded top and dark blue trousers.

Police would like to speak to this man and are appealing for him to come forward.

Anyone with information is asked to contact PC Stuart Cirket at the Haverhill Response Team on 101

Windows smashed

VANDALS caused more than £1,000 worth of damage by smashing a shop window.

The shop was left badly damaged after an unknown object was thrown at a shop window in Recreation Road, Haverhill.

The attack took place between 8pm on Tuesday, October 15, and 7.30am on Wednesday, October 16.

The total cost of the damage amounted to approximately £1,000.

Police are currently appealing for witnesses who saw the attack.

Anyone who witnessed this incident is asked to call PS Sarah Bartley at Haverhill Police on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Thieves steal bikes

THIEVES stole two valuable bikes from a garage in Haverhill last week.

The suspects cut a hole in a concrete wall before hacking off the locks of man's blue mountain bike and another man's white Identiti Dr Jekyle dirt jump bike, between midnight and 6.55am on October 16th.

They then escaped with the £4,200 bikes by breaking down the garage door in Vetch Walk, Haverhill.

If you have any information on the the bikes, call PC Robert Williams on 101.

Gifted young golfer shows who's boss with a hole-in-one

A TALENTED young golfer showed he's a par above the rest with an impressive hole-in-one at a recent competition. Joshua Hulyer, from Haverhill, claimed the top prize of a limited-edition BOSS watch at the Haverhill Golf Club tournament.

The 10-year-old, pictured, scored his ace on the 172-yard, par-three 16th, earning him both the watch and membership of the BOSS Watches H1 Club.

His mum Natalie said: "I'm so very proud of him. He just lives and breathes golf. When he's not playing, he's watching it on the television, so it's a really big thing for him to win this."

Boss watches has pledged to reward club golfers with a prize watch for every hole-in-one recorded during a club competition between April and October 31 this year.

Joshua's success follows that of fellow Haverhill golfer, 17-year-old Liam Merritt, who also scooped the hole-in-one prize.

The chance to win the watch is open to any golfer whose club uses HowDidiDo – a social network for golfers – and anybody playing in official club competitions will be eligible, with more than 1,800 clubs currently using the website.

Stephen Brydon, commercial director for MGS Distribution, who distribute BOSS Watches, said: "Congratulations to Joshua on what, to most of us, is a once-in-a-lifetime achievement. To the majority of amateur golfers, recording a hole-in-one will be the most memorable thing they achieve in golf – yet all many have to show for it is a dent in their bank balance after buying a round of drinks in the clubhouse."

"We aim to make it a lot more memorable for them by presenting them with an exclusive BOSS watch, only available to golfers who record a hole-in-one, so they are truly exclusive and will provide a constant reminder of the sight of their ball popping into the hole and the emotions attached to that very moment."

Dad's 30,000ft jump in memory of Tomas

ELEANOR DICKINSON

HOOKED up to oxygen, strapped into in a pressurised aircraft 30,000ft above the earth and Conrad Swinfield-Wells' heart is thumping.

Within the next three minutes he will be making a death-defying leap into the unknown.

As the first rush of fear hits him, he holds on to the memory of the one who brought him to this point – his beloved son Tomas who died last year, aged just four and a half months.

Speaking for the first time since making the incredible leap of faith last month, the 43-year-old from Helions Bumpstead, described the entire experience as "truly mind-blowing."

He said: "It was an extremely intense and emotional experience."

"The nerves hit me as we were flying up and the pilot would announce when we'd reached 5,000ft, 10,000ft and so on. 10,000ft seemed terrifyingly high, but then at 30,000ft you're so high the ground is just a tiny spec."

Having spent a year planning the tandem leap at the West Tennessee Skydiving Centre, Conrad remembers the pang of fear when the moment finally arrived.

But, the memory of his son's suffering spurred his determination to take the big final step out of the plane.

SAYING THANKS: Conrad and his wife Jo

He said: "I had his photograph strapped to my arm. I just kept remembering I was there to honour his memory and to go through the struggle and fear he went through in his short life."

Another motive keeping him going was the charity The Sick Children's Trust, who supported him and his wife Jo during Tomas' illness.

"I want to raise as much as I can for them. It's the best way I can thank them for helping me and all the other families who have similar experiences," he said.

Sadly, the day was marred by the tragic death of fellow skydiver Randall Matthews, who undertook the same jump that day.

Conrad said: "There are always risks involved with things like this. It was a very tragic thing to happen and devastating for the people at the centre."

Though the tragedy had an impact on the experience, the couple remain determined to continue their work to help The Sick Children's Trust.

Tomas was born prematurely and Conrad and Jo stayed at the charity's Acorn House, at the the Rosie Hospital, Cambridge, free of charge while their son was being treated in hospital.

"The Trust helped us so much. They provided us with a place to stay so we could be near Tomas and be straight at his side if there were any changes in his condition."

"It helps so many families who are undergoing some very traumatic experiences."

"Raising money for them with this jump was the best way I could thank them and help them to go on supporting families."

Footage of Conrad's jump is now available to view on YouTube and you can donate to The Sick Children's Trust at <http://www.justgiving.com/30kdrop>

Young Sea Scouts claim victory in gruelling challenge

DISTRICT WINNERS: Scouts and leaders from Kedington's first and second team

SCOUTS from Kedington have overcome the odds to beat their arch rivals in the ultimate Scout challenge.

Four Sea Scouts from the village defeated the Haverhill branch to claim the prize in the annual District Commissioner's (DC) Challenge.

This is the first time since 2010 that the Kedington team has beaten their Haverhill opponents.

To win the top spot, the team had to undertake a gruelling eight-mile orientating hike, plus air rifle shooting and fire making.

Andrew Hattam, assistant leader at Kedington, said: "We've not entered for a while but planned to this year, and the children astonished me with their tenacity and their drive."

"At one point during the hike we passed a group and the kids couldn't believe we had passed them as they thought we had left second but we had actually left fifth and had managed to catch up."

"It was terrible weather and we had to do activities inside and I didn't expect us to come close to winning it so was flabbergasted with a big lump in my throat when we did."

"We'll definitely be entering next year to defend our crown."

Making up the winning group was Izzak Darvill, Molly Peacock, Louie Barthope and Harry Winner, while a further three Scouts took part as the Kedington's second team.

£180k park opens on old school site

A PARK and new playground costing nearly £200,000 is opening today in Haverhill.

Councillors and residents will gather at the old Clements Primary School site where the new Jubilee Park and playground will be opened to the public for the first time.

Unveiling the commemorative plaque will be Deputy Mayor of St Edmundsbury, Tim Marks and the Mayor of Haverhill Town Council Roger André, who will be joined by children from Clements Primary School to inaugurate the play equipment.

The cost of the entire project has totalled at around £150,000, including around £30,000 for the new play equipment.

Cllr Sarah Stamp, St Edmundsbury Cabinet member for Heritage Arts and Culture said: "I am very pleased that St Edmundsbury has seized the opportunity to give Haverhill a brand new open space.

"Residents told us what they wanted and as a result the park is linked to the neighbourhood with a network of paths, a play area for younger children and lots of space for kicking a ball about."

"Open spaces influence our sense of wellbeing and I hope Jubilee Park sees a lot of action."

Jubilee Park was created on the site of the former Clements Primary School.

After consultations with local residents, it was decided to turn the open space into a mixture of allotments, a playground, with the remainder staying as open parkland.

Cllr Anne Gower, St Edmundsbury Cabinet member for Haverhill said: "When the new Clements Primary School was built on the Puddlebrook Playing Fields we negotiated with Suffolk County Council to turn the former site to community use.

"The community plays an active part with residents shaping how it was developed, volunteering to open and close the children's area each day and growing crops on the allotments."

"It was named to celebrate the Queen's Diamond Jubilee and I hope it is enjoyed for many years to come."

The Jubilee Park has been officially designated as a Queen Elizabeth II Fields in Trust Site, part of a flagship UK-wide programme to celebrate the Diamond Jubilee and the London Olympics, by permanently protecting outdoor recreational spaces in the Jubilee Year.

The Mayors will reveal the specially commissioned commemorative plaque at the ceremony, which was provided by the Fields in Trust Charity.

Proud moment as 'lost' mum earns degree

A MOTHER has found a new lease in life through education after losing her career in catering.

Josephine McCarthy, from Haverhill, was left feeling 'lost' after being made redundant from her job in 2008.

The 45-year-old has now graduated with a degree in psychology and sociology at the UCS Bury St Edmunds after taking an Access to Higher Education course.

She said: "Taking on a degree is never going to be easy at any age, and it was one of the most challenging journeys of my life. I never felt I wasn't supported if I had worries."

PROUD MOMENT: Jo McCarthy receiving her degree award from Professor Graham Underwood

Girls' message in a bottle gets surprise reply

TWO young sisters had a nice surprise when they received a reply to their message in a bottle.

Nine-year-old Alexia and 4-year-old Caitlin Ling from Conway Close, Haverhill, were told not to expect much when they threw their message into the sea while spending a family day out at the beach in Norfolk.

But, less than two months later, the girls were ecstatic after they received a reply in the post – all the way from Holland.

Mum Louise said: "It was the last Saturday of the summer holidays and we were on a family day out at Clacton-on-Sea."

"It was my idea initially. I asked the girls the night before if they wanted to do it."

"I got the idea after seeing a story on the news about someone getting a reply from Australia."

"The girls seemed really

keen to do it. Alexia wrote the letter. She put their ages, their address and a note for someone who found the message to let them know where and when they found it.

"Caitlin then threw it off the pier into the sea, so it made a really lovely last day of the summer."

She added: "I told them not to get their hopes up as it may get lost at sea, or someone may find it and just not bother."

But, just as the girls and their bother Jordan, 12, were getting back into the school routine, a surprise arrived for them one Saturday morning.

Louise said: "My husband Adam just got the post as normal and was just going through it when he realised what it was."

To the family's surprise, they received a letter from a young Dutch couple who had found the bottle on a beach at Renesse, just north of Rotterdam.

Included with the letter was a Google map of where they found it, a postcard and a photo of themselves.

Louise said: "It was just so surprising. We were starting to forget all about it when it suddenly appeared."

"The girls were really surprised and happy that someone had taken the time to write to them."

As well as a picture, the Dutch couple also left an email address.

Louise said: "We've emailed them already and hopefully we'll hear back something from them again."

"It's made us want to try throwing a bottle again."

"I think it might become a family tradition for us to throw bottles when we go to the beach now."

Schoolchildren get their running shoes on

RUNNING SHOES ON: Youngsters taking part in the cross country run

YOUNG people from Haverhill and the surrounding villages put on their running shoes for a cross country competition.

Racing round the track at Castle Manor Academy Campus, the children from 14 primary and secondary schools braved the blustery conditions to complete the 2km track.

More than 500 pupils aged between 7 and 14 took part in the race from across the region.

For the children in Year 3 to 6, the route was shorter at 1.5km, and made its way around the lower portion of the vast campus.

The second route for students in Year 7 and up included a loop of the Academy's communications site, stretching a total of 2km.

Competitors were issued with race stickers as they arrived, which were used to provide electronic timing.

Sport Leaders from Castle Manor Academy then led warm-up sessions before the start of each category.

A spokesman for the school said: "Competitors had a fantastic time as they made their way around the undulating course, battling wind and occasional rain before returning to the main field for a flat finish."

NEWS IN BRIEF

Firefighters strike called off

A STRIKE by Suffolk's firefighters, due to take place last Saturday, was cancelled at the last minute.

Firefighters from Suffolk Fire and Rescue were due to take part in the nationwide strike when the Fire Brigade's Union (FBU) called off the strike on Friday.

The union said the reason behind the cancellation was due to progress being made in the row over pensions.

Car goes up in flames at school

A CAR went up in flames in the car park of a Linton secondary school.

Firefighters were called to Linton Village College at 6.50pm on October 16 where a silver people carrier had caught fire.

The cause of the fire was reported to have been accidental.

County GCSE results on the rise

SUFFOLK is rising through the league table ranks according to the Department of Education.

New figures show that the percentage of students achieving five A* to C grades has risen by four per cent.

The county also saw a rise of 28 places in the maths league tables, coming 101st in the country, though still it remains behind the national average in pupils gaining five A* to C.

GUIDING THE WAY: Suffolk police officers were learning how they could improve their dealings with situations involving guide dogs

Class on guide dog awareness

POLICE officers in Suffolk were given some training on how to deal with offenders and victims with guide dogs this month.

The guide dog masterclass was held at Suffolk Police headquarters, and aimed at increasing police staff and officers' awareness of issues relating to guide dog users.

Speakers covered issues including what to do with someone's guide dog when they are arrested or have to be taken to hospital following an accident.

They also received training on responding to complaints of harassment which may be related to their disability and dealing with incidents where guide dogs have been attacked by other dogs.

Detective Inspector Angus Moir said: "Events such as this are important to raise awareness within the Constabulary of issues faced by certain groups.

"The disability liaison officers and other staff who attended the event benefited from hearing from Guide Dog staff and trainers."

Xmas shop for cancer

A GRIEVING niece who lost her beloved aunt to pancreatic cancer is hoping to make best use of the season of goodwill to raise awareness of the disease.

Kelly Kennedy-Smith, of Shetland Road, Haverhill, said goodbye to her aunt Jean Nunn in July, only five months after she received the diagnosis.

Now, the 38-year-old hopes to raise both awareness and funds for Pancreatic Cancer Research by organising her own Christmas shopping market at Haverhill Arts Centre.

Kelly said: "When my aunt was diagnosed with pancreatic cancer in February, it was a complete shock to us.

"She went to the doctors with a tummy upset and later discovered she had a tumour in her stomach.

"She then declined so quickly and lost loads of weight. It was horrible because before that she had been so fit and active."

Sadly Jean lost her battle with cancer just five months later, aged 74.

But, what was more shocking for Kelly, was that this was the average lifespan for pancreatic cancer sufferers.

She said: "While my aunt was ill, I learned only three per cent of people live five years after their diagnosis and that hasn't changed in 40 years. That has to change."

Hoping to help make people more aware of the disease, Kelly will be hosting a night of Christmas shopping on November 8.

With stalls containing a multitude of gift options and a silver band, visitors will be able to get an early Christmas buzz, as well as help fundraise for Pancreatic Research.

The event will take place at Haverhill Arts Centre from 5pm until 9.30pm. Entry is free, but donations are welcome.

Fun and frights at Linton Zoo

HALLOWE'EN: Witch Dawny with barn owl Dusk at Linton Zoo

FRIGHTS and fundraising will come together at Linton Zoo next week for a day of spooky animal fun.

Creepy creatures, from spiders to snakes, will be on special display for the Halloween event next Friday.

There will also be a treat in store as visitors get the chance to meet the witch's barn owl Dusk.

Visitors will also be able to learn more about folklore associated with many of Britain's native creatures and find out why they don't deserve the bad reputation they have.

For those who choose not to come in fancy dress, there will be face painting stands, as well as a number of games, including Ghoulish Guess What? Pumpkin Trick or Treat and Apple bobbing.

The Zoo is open from 10.30am to 4pm (last admission 3pm). For more information visit the website www.lintonzoo.com

Pumpkin trail leads the way

TRICK or treaters will be led on a spooky through Haverhill for this year's Halloween night.

Mouse-hearted travellers are being warned to beware of creepy creatures lurking on the East Town Park trail on November 2.

Organisers at Haverhill Town Council are now looking for people to donate their unemployed pumpkins to the trail after the official night is over on Thursday.

Mick Keeble, arts manager at the council, said: "This is one of my favourite events of the year."

"It's a great event for all family members, right from grandparents to babies, and it's brilliant to see everybody dressed up and in the spirit of it. There will be a real woodland feel to it too."

This year's Halloween trail will centre on the theme of fire, with many flame-related surprises and mystical firestorm enchantment in store.

Many of the Halloween creatures have also become bewitched into performing all manner of flame-filled tricks and stunts.

But, in order for the council to bring the truly spooky atmosphere to life, they need residents' carved-up pumpkins to come out for one last night of terror.

ELEANOR DICKINSON

Mr Keeble said: "We're hoping to create a big construction with as many Haverhill pumpkin faces as possible."

"For people thinking of throwing them straight in the bin, please bring them to us to give them one last stand after Halloween is over."

He added: "We will make sure they're disposed of and composted properly afterwards of course."

To give your pumpkin creations another taste of the action, bring them to Haverhill Arts Centre, Haverhill Library or East Town Park Countryside Centre before 12 noon on Friday 1st and they will then take pride of place along the trail.

The family fun starts at East Town Park, Coupsals Road from 7.00pm. Bring a torch, dress up, but remember that the weather may be chilly and to wear suitable footwear.

Entry is free and all children must be accompanied by an adult.

Daniel completes 48-hour film challenge

A FILM student from Haverhill has won a challenge to make a film in just two days.

Daniel Gibson, a second-year media production student at West Suffolk College, was one of 30 students to take part in the challenge to create a short film in only 48 hours.

Daniel, 17, was part of the winning team for Best Story, for their film Soon, which tells the story of a man desperately trying to become famous.

He said: "Making

the film was actually much easier than I expected."

"We all got on so well with each other in the group, so we were really able to work well as a team."

Daniel is now hoping to study animation at university.

School beats palace to prize

ELEANOR DICKINSON

IT'S OFFICIAL, a primary school in Haverhill is better than Kensington Palace for environmental sustainability.

Clements New Primary
School, on Greenfields Way, has scooped an award at RICS 2013 Awards Grand
Final, defeating the palace home of Kate and Wills.

The award, which celebrates sustainable buildings,
counts St Paul's Cathedral and the Olympic stadium in Sydney among its previous winners.

Head teacher Lesley Farrow said: "We were delighted to be highly commended at the RICS Awards Grand Final last Friday which took place at the Savoy Hotel in London.
Twelve projects from England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales were nominated as regional winners.

"The award was for community benefit and recognised the huge impact our new building and beautiful grounds have brought all of us associated with the school.

DELIGHTED: Lesley Farrow,
head teacher

"Children, families and staff really love the light and bright environment and it helps us all to do our best.

"It was fantastic to have the Community Benefit judge,
Michael Wyldbore-Smith say
'Anyone dreaming of creating a primary school elsewhere should visit Clements and copy it'.

"We even managed to beat Kensington Palace in London which was in the same category."

With more than 600 building projects entering, this year proved to be the most competitive year for entries into the RICS Awards.

Winning for both its multi-million pound building and natural environment, the school successfully pipped hundreds of projects to the post and was Highly Commended in the Community Benefit category.

RICS judges said every aspect of the building has been constructed with sustainability at heart, while commending the positive effects the school has had on education outcomes in the area.

In particular, Clements' biomass boiler – which was built with a grant from the Low Carbon Buildings Programme – impressed the judges.

Stephen Boniface, chair of the judging panel said:
"Clements New Primary
School was a pleasure to visit and judges were simply wowed by the new building and the enthusiasm and commitment of the staff.

"The project has beaten hundreds of schemes to reach the Grand Final."

HERO: Stuart 'Iron Man' Cox with daughter Daisy, 2

Superhero flies into nursery

CHILDREN at Little Wonders nursery were delighted when superhero legend Iron Man flew in for a surprise visit.

Iron Man – aka father Stuart Cox – made his dramatic entrance at the nursery as part of a superhero and princess fundraising day.

With each child paying £2 to dress up as their favourite caped crusaders and fairytale princesses the day raised £77.50 for the Cracker Children's Charity, which supports children with severe learning disabilities.

Tara Nicholas, deputy manager at the nursery said: "The children really loved it. They had a wonderful time dressing up and colouring in different characters.

"It was by luck that we found Stuart, who was making his own Iron Man costume.

"His appearance added a really nice touch to the day, and the children did some activities relating to the theme.

"It was a very successful fundraiser."

How I fought breast cancer – and won

HAPPY FAMILY: Cathie with husband Joel and son Jonty, now 19 months old.

SITTING in the doctor's office, listening to him talk about tests and treatments and surgery, Cathie Sales felt dizzy with shock. She was 29. She had a two-month-old baby. And she'd just been diagnosed with a rare – and vicious – form of breast cancer.

"It was awful," says Cathie. "You immediately think 'I'm going to die, and I'm going to die soon'. I thought I wasn't going to see my baby grow up; that he would grow up without a mother; that he wouldn't even remember me."

"All these things race through your head. I'm a glass-half-full kind of person – that's my natural approach to life. But the biggest battle I had to fight throughout my treatment was with fear: it was a constant battle to stop my mind running wild..."

"But you have to keep going, a day at a time. Because you can get through it and life can be good – life is good."

To see Cathie today, tending to a poorly Jonty (now 19 months, her son's got a cold and is feeling a little sorry for himself), it's hard to believe she finished treatment only four short months ago. Upbeat and out-going, she's also radiant: her skin glows and her hair, a curly crop, shines.

"It's been a journey, but I do feel like myself again now," says Cathie. "I used to have really long straight hair, and it's come back curly – but, to be honest, I'm just glad to have hair.

To mark Breast Cancer Awareness month, Cathie Sales – diagnosed with the disease aged just 29 when her son was only two months old – tells her inspirational story of survival to Alice Ryan.

"As soon as it started to fall out, I shaved my head. Jonty was reaching out and grabbing my hair, the way babies do, and it was just coming out in his hand, which was pretty horrible."

"It sounds like a little thing, but one of the things I found hardest was losing my eyelashes: I've worn mascara every day of my life and felt naked without it! Being able to wear mascara again is great."

"You do find yourself feeling immensely grateful for all the normal things. I have to admit I'm still not that grateful for nappies, though..."

Cathie, who lives in Comberton, is sharing her story to raise awareness of breast cancer – with one person diagnosed every 10 minutes, it's the most common cancer in women in the UK – and also to fly the flag for Cambridge's Pink Rose Appeal.

Organised by Addenbrooke's Charitable Trust (ACT), Pink Rose sees people across the area hold themed fundraising parties every autumn; since it began, in 2004, the appeal has raised an incredible £450,000 for breast cancer treatment, care and research.

"It's such a good cause," explains Cathie. "From a patient's perspective, the Pink Rose has funded so many little extras, like a quiet room in the hospital, which provide comfort when you really need it."

Cathie, who hails from South Africa, met and married her British husband, Joel, while he was working in Cape Town. Having moved to the UK in 2008, the couple came to Cambridge two years ago after Joel got a place at theological college Ridley Hall, where he's training to become a vicar.

"I was about five months pregnant when we came here," recounts Cathie. "And I was around seven months when I noticed a change in one breast: it was all swollen, and hard, and it had these purplish marks on it – like bruises."

Referred to the GP by her midwife, Cathie says her symptoms were first thought to be the result of severe mastitis, then a possible abscess.

Christmas reminder to sort TV licence

AS SEASONAL preparations seem to start earlier and earlier every year, temporary businesses operating over Christmas are being reminded to remember their TV licence.

TV licencing has issued a reminder to businesses in Haverhill to sort out a licence to avoid facing prosecution with a large fine if caught out.

This warning is aimed at all businesses regardless of whether they are open just for the festive period or for the following year.

Emma Cowlard, spokesperson for TV Licencing, said: "We want people to stay on the right side of the law and enable people to enjoy a happy Christmas. But any business in Haverhill or Sudbury showing live television, whether for customers' use or in staff areas, must be covered by a valid TV Licence.

"Those without a valid licence are breaking the law and run the risk of a court prosecution and fine of up to £1,000 per offence, plus costs."

"Those found guilty are also required to buy a TV Licence at £145.50, or they could face a potential second prosecution."

"So whether you're managing a grotto, toy factory or reindeer stable, make sure you have a valid TV Licence."

TV licencing has also told businesses they are able to claim a refund worth more than £100 in the New Year for licences purchased in October, provided the licence isn't needed again before it expires.

A "TV in the Workplace" guide for offices manned by skeleton staff over the Christmas period can also be found at <http://www.tvlicensing.co.uk/>

Pom bear pays a visit

MORE than 100 disabled and sick children were given some tasty snacks on the way to a trip of a lifetime – along with a very special guest.

Mascot of the Haverhill based brand Pom-Bear paid a visit to 192 children set to board a Dreamflight trip to Orlando, Florida.

The annual trip gives children between 8 and 14 the chance to go on a dream holiday, without their parents.

The crispy animal mascot entertained the children at a special party at Heathrow, before dishing out some treats for their long trip.

Marketing Manager for Pom-Bear, Steve Harger, said: "The great thing about Pom-Bear is that he raises a smile wherever he goes."

"When we were contacted by Dreamflight for products we knew that we could do more to help and to add some extra fun to the occasion."

"We hope that the children have a super holiday and that they enjoy their Pom-Bear snacks."

Singer Kiki Dee comes to town

ANYONE not afraid of having their heart broken should come to Haverhill Arts Centre next month.

The 70s singer, who is most famous for her duet with Elton John, will be performing new tunes and old favourites at the centre on November 9.

Singing alongside guitarist and musical partner Carmelo Luggeri, the 66-year-old will be performing in the town as part of a new UK tour.

Famous mostly for the 1976 song Don't go breaking my heart, Kiki Dee was the first white British artist to sign with Motown Records and has recorded 12 albums, achieved three No 1 singles and eight Top 10s in the UK.

The tour will coincide with the release of Dee and Luggeri's new album A Place Where I Can Go, which will be released this month.

The album is said to contain a mixture of moving ballads and bluesy songs based primarily around the acoustic guitar.

The new album is also released as Kiki celebrates 50 years as a recording artist.

Haverhill residents will be in for another treat a week later, as psychic Tony Stockwell performs a show at the Arts Centre the following week.

The TV star, who claims to give proof beyond doubt of the afterlife, will perform An Evening of Mediumship on November 16.

He has previously appeared in programmes such as Street Psychic, Psychic Private Eyes and Psychic Academy.

Tickets and information are available from www.haverhillartscentre.co.uk and on 01440 714140.

MOTHER'S LOVE: Cathie today and below with Jonty, part-way through chemo.

Within a few weeks Jonty had arrived, happy and healthy, "but I had real problems breast-feeding," says Cathie. "He started to lose a lot of weight, so I had to introduce a bottle within the first couple of weeks."

With Cathie's breast still swollen and discoloured, the doctor prescribed antibiotics and planned to run tests – but the new mum was on the point of flying back to South Africa, to celebrate her sister's wedding.

Knowing what a struggle his daughter was having, Cathie's GP father went ahead and booked appointments with both a specialist lactation physio and a breast surgeon back in Cape Town. "The physio looked at my breast and said 'Whatever's going on here, it's really bad'... Within days I'd had a mammogram, ultrasound, biopsies.

"By that stage, there were visible lumps under my arm and they were very painful. I know now that inflammatory breast cancer – which I had: it accounts for about three per cent of breast cancers – moves very quickly; it can appear almost overnight."

The diagnosis was, admits Cathie, a sickening blow. "We were told, because of the under-arm lumps, that there was a 50/50 chance it had spread. The consultant said if it had spread beyond the arm, there was no cure; if it hadn't, we could talk about

"Two days later, after all the scans, we were told it hadn't spread and we were so happy we actually went out for dinner to celebrate. It's crazy: two days earlier, we were devastated that it was breast cancer – and now we were delighted it was breast cancer, and nothing else."

Cathie had her first round of chemo before even leaving South Africa; back in the UK, her treatment continued

You can support the Pink Rose Appeal by organising a fundraiser, buying Mayer Pink Rose jewellery, ordering a Pink Rose bush or wearing a Pink Rose pin badge – call (01223) 217757 or visit act4addenbrookes.org.uk/pinkrose for full details.

at Addenbrooke's. She had six sessions of chemotherapy and regular infusions of anti-cancer drug Herceptin, before radiotherapy and surgery.

"The chemo was the most physically demanding part, definitely," says Cathie.

"There were times, when I was still feeling really sick five or six days after a treatment, when I thought 'I want this ride to stop, I want to get off'."

"I felt robbed: I couldn't be the mum and wife I wanted to be. It was like my life had been derailed by this horrible thing, like my own body was trying to kill me..."

"But I've got a very, very good husband. He is such a positive person and he was always trying to cheer me up and make me laugh."

"And we had such great support: my mum came over for seven weeks, my mother-in-law came up every weekend, friends from Joel's college delivered dinner for a week right after each chemo, other friends looked after Jonty.

"I wanted to look after Jonty myself so badly, so that was emotional. But I had no energy at all."

Discovering she had to take oestrogen-suppressant Tamoxifen was, admits Cathie, another blow: "We want to have another baby, which you can't do while you're on Tamoxifen. But they've said I can take a break after three years, so fingers crossed..."

By the time Cathie had her surgery, to perform a single mastectomy and remove 22 lymph nodes, the cancer had all but vanished: tests showed cancerous cells in only one of the nodes.

"Nobody's actually said it's all gone, that I've got the all-clear. But first I was on eight-week checks, then four-monthly. And then September they said 'See you next year'..."

The final hurdle is breast reconstruction, which is scheduled for early next year.

"I'm feeling good and I'm enjoying life," says Cathie. "Jonty is just amazing: even when I was feeling really down, he could bring a smile to my face."

"Watching him grow is wonderful; it's a privilege to be his mum."

"When I was first diagnosed, I went on the internet hoping to find some hopeful and uplifting stories," Cathie adds.

"I don't know if I was just looking in the wrong places, but all I could find were sad stories."

"I wanted to share my story to encourage other people – to tell them that things can get better, and that you can recover."

Dance fever takes over the Arts Centre

INFECTIOUS: Lisa Mason's School of Dance at the Haverhill Arts Centre

MORE than 100 dancers created a storm at Haverhill Arts Centre last week.

Toe tappers from the Lisa Mason School of Dance took to the stage to perform a number of showstoppers.

Forming part of the school's "Dance Fever" series, the show was the first time the group performed at the centre.

Dance instructor Lisa Mason said: "It was a great show and my assistant teachers Siobhan and Jane and I are extremely proud of how well our dancers performed.

"After three performances in one weekend the dancers wanted to perform some more. They loved their costumes and the Arts Centre was the perfect venue."

Consisting of three routines, the 130 dancers performed a range of styles, from ballet, tap to modern and street.

As well as a variety of movement, the show also featured adult and young dancers, with the youngest girl aged just three years old.

Lisa added: "Everyone has been left on such a high from a great weekend."

"We are now looking forward to our performance at Her Majesty's Theatre and this year's Pantomime Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs."

Sixties are back

HAILING from Bury St Edmunds, director Alastair Whatley did the "unthinkable" and ditched a place doing history at Downing College to run off to drama school.

We're rather glad he did otherwise he'd never have set up the prolific Original Theatre Company.

His version of Birdsong has already visited the Cambridge Arts Theatre this year (read our review at cambridge-news.co.uk/Whats-on/Reviews), and now it's the turn of Sir Peter Schaffer's The Private Ear and The Public Eye.

Having explored Edwardian times, the First World War and the 1920s through to the 1940s, the fact these one-act plays were set in the 1960s appealed. "We try to treat them as a whole, a whole piece, a whole play," Whatley says. "You can play them both beautifully out of sequence, you could put one on and not the other, but you put them together and by drawing these links and fine lines and shadow and shade and connections, you create this whole evening which is obviously how the writer intended them to be done."

The plays actually had their world premiere at the Cambridge Arts Theatre in 1962, so writer Peter Schaffer has said he might come along. "It's quite a big thing for us to be coming back and playing 50 years on."

How have the plays been received so far? "People were roaring with laughter! The first one particularly is full of pathos, it's really sad at the end, it brings tears to the eyes one minute and laughter the next. I loved sitting at the back of the audience and watching the laughter peal and the silences roll, it was great."

■ The Private Ear and the Public Eye, Cambridge Arts Theatre, until Saturday, October 26 at 7.45pm. Tickets £15-£30 from (01223) 503333 / cambridgeartstheatre.purchase-tickets-online.co.uk.

Dividing interests

AT THIS time of year, just when plants are entering their dormant phase, I always look at the overcrowded clumps of perennials dying down and decide what I need to lift and divide next year.

Dividing plants involves digging them up, splitting them into pieces with roots and growth shoots or buds, and then replanting them. The method stops many herbaceous plants becoming overcrowded, untidy and invasive.

Many perennials, including delphiniums, heuchera, hostas, anemones, phlox and cranesbill geraniums, benefit from regular division to maintain their health and vigour, and require no special conditions when new, divided sections are replanted. Other plants benefit from division every three to four years although some, like asters, are best divided annually. A few, including red hot pokers and peonies, hate being moved so only lift and divide them if you want to propagate them.

The best time to divide plants is autumn, when they are dormant, and spring, when they are just starting into growth. Grasses including bamboos should be divided in early spring, while perennials which flower in spring and early summer, such as lily-of-the-valley, epimediums and rhizomatous bearded irises, should be divided as soon as they have finished flowering.

There are various ways to divide plants. Those with tough roots which are difficult to prise apart, such as hostas, are better off being dug up and then cut into thick slices with a knife like you'd a cake, making sure good roots are present in each slice. Other plants can be lifted carefully with a garden fork, working away from the crown centre to limit root damage, then split into two portions across, each with some roots, shoots or buds. Larger pieces with more roots are likely to flower sooner than small ones, which may take a year to recover. If you are digging up a clump, remove the centre portion, retaining the younger outer parts for replanting. If any sections are short of roots, trim the leaves to reduce moisture loss.

Evergreen and perennial ornamental grasses should be left until spring, when they've had a chance to recover from all the energy they've expended making their feathery plumes in autumn. Young, newly planted grasses also hate sitting in the wet, heavy soil that so often prevails in winter, so don't divide them until spring.

Cut down the foliage of evergreen grasses in spring and divide them, while bamboo stems can be cut down to 30cm (12in). Perennials such as daylilies (hemerocallis) have masses of fibrous roots and large crowns which are difficult to pull apart, so use two forks thrust back-to-back in the centre and work the handles outwards in opposite directions to loosen the clump. You may then have to use hand forks to divide it completely, or cut away sections with a sharp knife.

Plants with fleshy roots, such as delphiniums should be cut with a spade or knife. Divided clumps should ideally contain around three to five shoots.

Divide primulas into rosettes and asters into single rooted shoots. Clumps of epimediums should be teased apart into separate plants using your hands or a hand fork, replanting on mild autumn days, while crocosmia and crocus clumps can be dug up and the new corms which are resting on the original ones can be eased off and replanted up to 10cm deep.

When replanting, add compost or well-rotted manure to the planting hole on a new site, or a balanced fertiliser if you are replanting the divisions into the same hole. They should be replanted at the same depth in flowering positions and watered in well.

Alternatively, pot up divisions while you decide where you want your new plants to grow, overwintering them in a cold frame.

Before long, you'll have an array of new plants – which won't have cost you a penny.

Print pays, for property!

NEARLY 80 per cent of potential home-buyers decide which agent to instruct based on whether they advertise in their local newspaper, a major industry player has claimed.

Colin Shairp, director of Fine and Country Southern Hampshire was reacting to industry 'scepticism' to claims made by a large newspaper and media publishing house that property supplements drive web traffic to agents' sites. On his blog, Mr Shairp writes: "Call me old fashioned, but newspapers work. How do I know this? Quite simply, it's because I follow the figures on the property portals I use – and my properties pop up on almost 500 websites."

"I know from experience that when my local property papers come out the hit rate on the portals for my two agencies goes up. It's more than just coincidence, too, because it's always the properties that are featured in advertisements or my regular editorials that bring people to the portals. "They may then go on to browse other homes, but the visit is prompted by the print promotion and that's without question. The portal statistics that everyone else relies on prove my point."

Mr Shairp employs a journalist to write property profiles and draft comment pieces which he describes as 'money well spent.' He added: "...I then use these articles again in my own electronic newsletters which are opened, and read all the way through, by 70 per cent of those who receive them." He rounded on agents who 'rubbish' print media. "Print brings personal contact – people ring in response to advertisements and immediately you have a name and an embryonic relationship. Personal relationships are the lifeblood of an agency. We are a people business needing people contact to succeed. "People do read articles, remember their content, ask me about them, and come to my agencies because I have a local profile. You may think it boastful – estate agency has never been a business for the shy and withdrawn. You have to be out there."

Your Guide to Moving Home

Moving home can be a complicated business and in the hectic run up to the big day it is all too easy to forget something vital. The team offers their readers this handy checklist to help avoid any major pitfalls. We suggest you tick them off as you go....

1 4-2 WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Packing – start packing and sorting through your belongings. Now is a good time to de-clutter and pack items rarely used. Make sure you have plenty of sturdy boxes, bubble wrap and sticky tape.
- ☐ Removal companies – get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Insurance – check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Utilities – make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move. Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Telecommunications – Notify your telephone and broadband provider and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone and broadband facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Post – Look into re-directing your post for a few months to make sure you receive all relevant correspondence.
- ☐ Children – Look into the possibility of your children, especially young children, staying with family or friends on the day of the move.
- ☐ Pets – Make arrangements for any pets to be booked into a cattery or kennels if required. Having your pets microchipped is a good idea and if already microchipped, have the address changed to your new one. Your vet can advise on this.

2

Change of address – tell companies and organisations that you are moving!

Notify:

- ☐ Employer
- ☐ Inland revenue
- ☐ Local council
- ☐ Banks or Building Societies
- ☐ Credit companies, store cards & other accounts
- ☐ Gas, Electricity and water boards
- ☐ Insurance companies
- ☐ Land / mobile phones
- ☐ Internet and cable / satellite TV providers
- ☐ Doctor, Dentist and Opticians
- ☐ DVLA
- ☐ Veterinary surgery
- ☐ TV Licensing

3 1 WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Delivery address – change delivery address of your Cambridge News, milk, groceries and fuel to your new address as appropriate.
- ☐ Laundry – do any last minute laundry that you can – have you arranged for a plumber to disconnect your washing machine correctly?

- ☐ Kitchen cupboards – go through your kitchen cupboards and throw out anything not in date. Also check that all jars and bottles are correctly sealed before packing.

- ☐ Fridges / Freezers – empty and clean out in preparation for moving. If you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

- ☐ Valuables / documents – put these in safe place for moving day

4 2-1 DAYS TO GO:

- ☐ Packing – pack a bag for overnight essentials and toiletries and finish all remaining packing into boxes. Remember to label which room each box is destined for.

- ☐ Snack box – pack a box for the kitchen to include essentials like tea, coffee and sugar, as well as the kettle and mugs! Also include other snacks as necessary.

- ☐ Dismantle and disconnect – take down curtains, fixtures and fittings and disconnect white goods ready for transport.

- ☐ Outdoor items – make sure that these are stacked together and ready to be moved.

- ☐ Mobile – place your mobile on charge the night before moving and ensure that all relevant people have your number.

5 ON MOVING DAY:

AT YOUR OLD ADDRESS:

- ☐ Strip beds and pack bedding and nightclothes.
- ☐ Finish packing toiletries box.
- ☐ Direct removal firm personnel or friends helping you move as to what needs to be done.
- ☐ Turn off electric appliances.
- ☐ Disconnect cooker.
- ☐ Turn off boiler / central heating.
- ☐ Turn off water.
- ☐ Read gas meter.
- ☐ Read electricity meter.
- ☐ Secure all windows.
- ☐ Lock all doors.
- ☐ Make final checks and leave key as arranged with new owners.

AT YOUR NEW HOME:

- ☐ Open up & have a look around the new house.
- ☐ Locate fuse box, gas and electric meter and stop cock for reference.
- ☐ Take readings on gas, electric and water meters as appropriate.
- ☐ Organise the direction of boxes to appropriate rooms.
- ☐ Check the van after all is unloaded.
- ☐ Make the beds up for the evening.
- ☐ Sit down and relax – unpack the other boxes the next day.

Elms' BMW Motor Show is a must

ELMS, the Camborne-based BMW/Mini dealership, is holding its first all-BMW Motor Show on October 25-27 at the Imperial War Museum (IWM) Duxford.

The free event – “all you need to do is be over 25 and bring along a full driving licence”, says co-ordinator Kim McHugh – is aimed at introducing customers and potential customers to the full BMW range. “There will be some Audis and Mercedes there for comparison,” adds McHugh.

The event takes place at the IWM Duxford's Conference Centre. “It's an outside event,” explains McHugh. “Testing will be on the road and an Elms executive will accompany you.”

The ride and drive event includes the option of free entry to the museum for those who look and drive. The Show will be open from 10am until 4pm on all three days.

For further details please go to elm-cambridge.co.uk/motorshow or telephone (01954) 784500. Vehicles at the event will include:

- BMW new 4 Series
- 520
- 640/640 Grand Coupe
- 730, 760
- M135i
- MM5
- M6 Coupe
- X3, X6
- Z4

READY TO RIDE: The M6 Gran Turismo will be at the BMW Motor Show this weekend

■ 1, 3 and 5 Series.

As well as the actual metal there will be a simulator for the BMW i – the all-electric BMW due November 16 – and by the way don't miss Elms' launch evening for the i on November 16, which will include “dancers, lights and music”.

Meanwhile Elms recently won a competition for best launch among UK dealers. “We're delighted to have recoginition from our peers for having the best launch proposition for the i, BMW's first all-electric car,” says McHugh. “It was a Dragon's Den-style presentation and we're going to make the evening a journey from BMW going through to the i being all-electric.”

Finally you can now get the iCube, an app for the iPad and iPhone which simulates driving the car download, from bmw.co.uk.

Top finance deal is for the Hyundai i10

CARFINANCE247, the online car finance specialist, has released its latest data which reveals insights in to their average customer, as well as differences across age groups and genders.

The statistics, taken from the last three and half years, show that a typical customer will:

- Apply for car finance between
- Require a loan over 48 months.

The data also shows that overall, the most popular make and model of used car bought on car finance is a Vauxhall Astra. There are, however, gender differences, with the Ford Ka being the most favoured by lady motorists over males, and the Peugeot 4007 being more favoured by males.

Age-wise, there are also differences, with trends among certain age groups:

- 18-26 year olds typically choose a Volkswagen or a Mini

TOP CAR FOR FINANCE: Payments for the Hyundai i10 come in at just £118 per month according to Carfinance247

- Those aged 27-38 prefer an Audi or a Nissan
- 39-50 year olds favour a Kia or a Mitsubishi
- Motorists in the 51-56 age band prefer a Toyota
- Those aged 57+ typically choose a Ford.

Most personal finance tends to be over 60 months or five years, but 48 months or four-year plans are also available.

Meanwhile What Car? experts have revealed the best finance deals on the UK's top cars. Monthly payments of just £118 a month can net you a Hyundai i10 on a 3.5-year, 5.9 per cent APR deal.

What Car? editor-in-chief Chas Hallett explains: “Choosing how to pay for your new car can be really confusing, because consumers face so many options.

“For example Skoda's 0 per cent interest offer will cost consumers less than buying with cash, and buying a Mercedes-Benz CLS on finance can yield savings of more than £10,000.”

Bentley enjoys a day to savour with Ian Poulter

GOLFER Daniel Bentley enjoyed an experience he will never forget after competing at the Ian Poulter Junior Invitational where he met the Ryder Cup star and received lots of useful advice and tips from him.

Bentley, who plays off a handicap of eight, represented his club Haverhill at the competition having previously won a qualifying event.

He and 79 other competitors battled it out on the Marquis course at Woburn, with Poulter, who finished tied third at the 2013 Open, present throughout the event.

Bentley produced a good performance, but his putting let him down and cost him any chance of winning the competition.

At the end of the day, the youngsters enjoyed a question-and-answer session with Poulter where he talked about life on the professional tour and also hit some demonstration shots.

"It was great to meet Ian and play in his golf day," said Bentley. "I had a fantastic time playing a great course."

Bentley was accompanied by dad Martin and Haverhill's head professional Paul Wilby.

"Ian put on a great day for all the juniors and was very generous with his time," said Wilby.

"Ian is an inspiration to all golfers, but his enthusiasm for junior golf is outstanding. "Daniel played really well but on the day his putts were not dropping. However, he made us proud."

■ More than 70 players including seven professionals competed in the Pro-Am meeting at Bury St Edmunds.

The players had to contend with a range of weather conditions from fog, wind and heavy showers to spells of sunshine.

The Haverhill team threatened the leaders but just came up short in the closing stages.

Haverhill's Ollie Rush finished joint third in the competition for the professional prize. Bury Driving Range's Adam Trett won it with a score of 74.

Danny Barton of Felixstowe Golf Centre was second with 76, with Rush holding third place on 79 along with Tim Cooper (Newton Green) and Mark Farrow (Diss).

Haverhill's Ollie Rush finished second in the four ball better ball stableford, with Eamonn Bareham, Mich Calmet, Spencer Tatum and Bob Spittle scoring 79 points, four behind the winners.

The Ladies' Turkey Trot was contested over two days this month with Jane Herrington the overall winner.

Despite the wet weather conditions that prevailed throughout the event, Herrington finished with a respectable score of 37 points, reducing her handicap by two shots to 20.

Mary Sail finished in second place with 35 points, while Debbie Taylor claimed third with 31 points.

High-scoring match ends in defeat

HAVERHILL under-13s suffered a narrow 47-44 loss to a strong Ely side after an exciting match of rugby.

From the first whistle Haverhill looked to take the game to Ely and their dominant forward line provided them with a strong platform to do just that.

Archie Pickton ran half the length of the pitch to score the opening try and Dean Cleary added a difficult conversion to put Haverhill 7-0 up.

George Harvey added a second try and some strong tackling enabled Josh Gilligan to crash over shortly afterwards and extend the lead.

The score sparked Ely into life and they responded with two quick tries.

Further Haverhill tries from Mitchell Morgan and Billy Notley, followed by two more for Ely, gave Haverhill a 29-26 lead at half time.

Haverhill skipper Morgan had to come with an injury in the second half and Ely took advantage of his absence by scoring two tries.

Pickton dotted down to bring Haverhill back into contention, but another try from Ely extended their lead.

Another try from Gilligan and a third from Pickton reduced the deficit to just three points. But despite their last ditch efforts to get another score, Haverhill were unable to add any more points and Ely ran out 47-44 winners.

Winning start to league campaign

HAVERHILL Tennis Club got their Winter League campaign off to a winning start with a 4-2 victory over Braintree.

Both mixed pairings of Adam Fowle and Marcia Armstrong, and Josh Dashwood and Shannon Tobin, won a set and lost a set, but it was in the men's and ladies' doubles where Haverhill proved strongest.

Fowle and Dashwood won their set 7-5 with Armstrong and Tobin easing to a 6-2 win.

Lisher four sees Wrattling through

JACK Lisher smashed home four as West Wrattling under-12s beat Stretham Sporting 8-2 in the BM Kempton 9v9 League Cup, second round.

James Iron put Wrattling in front, with Finley Plant getting the first in his hat-trick before Lisher made it 3-0.

Stretham replied, but Lisher and Plant struck again to put Wrattling firmly in control.

Although Stretham got a second, two more from Lisher and one from Plant sealed the win.

Midweek defeat stretches Haverhill's winless streak

Haverhill Rovers have now gone three games without a win in the Thurlow Nunn League, Premier Division, following Tuesday night's 4-3 loss at home to Godmanchester Rovers.

An action-packed first half saw Godmanchester take the lead in the sixth minute with a goal from Mark Ebeyer after a long throw was not cleared.

That advantage was doubled when Russell Bull netted in the 11th minute but the home side soon rallied to get back on terms.

Jack Wilkinson halved the deficit with a penalty after Andrew Ofofu had been brought down in the 18th minute. And the scores were level less than 10 minutes later when Ben Robinson beat two defenders before whipping in a dangerous cross that Godmanchester keeper Enol Ordenez could only parry into the path of Ofofu who duly slotted the ball home.

Haverhill lost Marcus Hunt to injury in the 36th minute and in the closing stages of the first half, the visitors opened up a 4-2 lead with goals from Bull and Jon Hall.

Haverhill pushed forward in the second half and substitute Luke Parkinson gave them hope when he scored in the 80th minute. But despite intense pressure, Dean Greygoose's men were unable to find the equaliser.

The loss followed Saturday's 2-2 draw at FC Clacton.

On that occasion, Rovers fell behind twice but came back to equalise with goals from Marc Abbott and Richard Gammon.

In the First Division, Haverhill Borough romped to a 4-1 win at home to Stowmarket.

They opened the scoring on the half-hour mark when Harry O'Connor scored from the penalty spot after he had been brought down in the area.

An own goal from a Stowmarket defender doubled the lead but the visitors pulled a goal back on the stroke of half time.

The win was sealed four minutes from time with a goal from Martin Westcott and Jon Welsh rounded off the scoring with a free-kick.
